ARQ GROUP (ASX: ARQ)

Arq Group – Arq Group Executive Leadership Team

Arq Group today announces changes to its Executive Leadership Team.

Peter Wright – Managing Director, Enterprise

Peter Wright leaves Arq Group after 8 years leading the Enterprise division. Peter joined Arq Group, then known as Melbourne IT Group, in 2011 as Executive General Manager of Enterprise Services and, leaves the Company having grown the Enterprise division from 50 people to 400 and in the process transforming it into one of Australia's leading digital services businesses.

Arq Group CEO, Martin Mercer, said "I am deeply appreciative of the significant contribution Peter made to the strategy and growth of the Enterprise division and the leadership he has displayed during his eight years at Arq. The Board and I, thank Peter for his dedicated service to the Company during his tenure and wish him well in the future."

Emma Hunt - Managing Director of SMB

Emma Hunt, who is currently on parental leave, has decided to pursue other opportunities when she resumes work. She will be leaving Arq Group on 8th July 2019.

Arq Group CEO, Martin Mercer, said "The business has really benefited from Emma's vision and drive over the past two and a half years. One of the key highlights during her time was the strategically important acquisition of WME. The Board and I, thank Emma for her dedicated service to the Company and wish her well in the future."

Mr Brett Fenton, Chief Technology Officer and Acting Managing Director, SMB

Brett Fenton, formerly Chief Technology Officer and Acting Managing Director, SMB has been appointed to the newly created position of Executive Director, Mass and Middle Market.

Brett has a long history with the Company having joined Arq Group when Netregistry was acquired in 2014 and, in addition to his current role, has previously held executive roles including Chief Customer Officer of Arq and Chief Operating Officer of Netregistry.

"Brett is a seasoned executive with an ideal mix of skills and experience for this new role. I wish him all the best in his new position and I'm confident that we are in good hands", said Arq Group CEO, Martin Mercer.

Arq Group CEO, Martin Mercer, said “These changes will bring greater focus and momentum to the implementation of our strategic plan and sharpen our execution. They provide a springboard for a return to growth”.
